

NOTES FROM LEADERSHIP

The past year has been invigorating as we have seen an increased attention on the challenges of mental health crisis in the state of the Idaho and in our country. As the Children's Home Society celebrates our 111th year anniversary, we are grateful for the opportunities we have to continue to touch the lives of children and families through our Warm Springs Counseling programs. The complex nature of the mental health crisis for children is matched only by the resolve of the Children's Home Society to increase mental health education and awareness, to help to break the stigma around mental health disorders, and to continuously improve access to mental healthcare services.

As a public health crisis, we recognize how significant our role is in finding solutions and offering hope for a better future. Our mission leads us to work hard to curb the impact of the mental health crisis by ensuring that no child is left without access to professional mental health services. We are so encouraged by the support of our community and the overwhelming generosity of our individual donors, corporations, and foundations. Because of their support, the Children's Home Society was able to serve over 1,700 children at our Warm Springs Counseling Centers in downtown Boise and Meridian.

Our work is far from done. It is very humbling to see how swiftly our community members step in to make sure that our most vulnerable clients not only received the much needed counseling services, but also that no child is left without a Christmas gift, or a back to school back pack and supplies. It is always overwhelming to see the amount of gifts donated to bring a smile to each child.

There is nothing more gratifying than seeing how our professional counselors provide the services to change lives and give hope to thousands of children and their families. We are ever grateful to you for the support we receive to continue this critical mission. Everything you do to support the Children's Home Society's mission leaves a lasting impact in the lives of our children.

On behalf of the board of directors and all of us at the Children's Home Society and the Warm Springs Counseling Centers, thank you!

PRESERVING THE HISTORY

MISSION

Children’s Home Society of Idaho is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. We provide mental, emotional, and behavioral health care services to more than 90 children and family members each day. Through counseling and therapy our mission is to help our clients develop coping skills, attitudes and positive experiences necessary to succeed in educational settings and lead happy, healthy, and productive lives, regardless of their ability to pay.

“When I felt like there was no end to this living nightmare, me and my family were going through, a friend suggested we check out a counselor who worked for the Warm Springs Counseling Center. Fast forward to today, thanks to the WSCC counselor, I am thriving.” - Parker, WSCC PATIENT
